

The rear part of the system from where the loading of waste into the bioreactor takes place through a conveyor belt – the waste material (Sludge, green waste, leaves and tree braches) are ready to be fed to the system