INVITATION

Dear Madam and Dear Mister;

The Faculty of Sciences of the University Chouaïb Doukkali organizes within the framework of the WasteSUM project financed by European commission (LIFE Third country) the International Conference on the Sustainable Solid Waste Management (MWM 09) of 19 to 20 June, 2009 at El Jadida (Morocco). The Technical National university of Athens and the Municipality of Azemmour are the official partners of conference MWM 09. The main aim of conference MWM 09 is to discuss and define the best strategies and techniques of management of solid waste meeting the needs for these generations without compromising the capacity of the future generations.

Conference MWM 09 will be the occasion for eminent specialists (invited especially with this conference) and experts national and international (decision makers, managers, researchers and ONG) to expose their research in this field, to share their successful experiences as regards concepts and technologies of management of solid waste and to identify the most suitable methods and techniques. Which take account of the various aspects associated with this field (legislative, environmental, economic, social, valorization and recycling) and who allow the creation of richnesses and to ensure a sustainable development of this sector.

Madam/Sir, your participation in this important International Conference is sincerely hoped to enrich the debates and to contribute to the development of this sector. We invite you to consult the circular attached to this message and the Web site: <http://sswm2009.freehostia.com> for the practical information of conference MWM 09 (objectives, topics, place, deadlines, accomodation).

While waiting for your active participation, we request from you, Dear Madam dear Sir, to accept our very high consideration.
